AN ORDINANCE to provide for the Formation and Regulation of Polders and for the Irrigation and Drainage thereof. A.D. 1910.

[7th January, 1911.]

BE it enacted by the Governor of British Guiana with the advice and consent of the Court of Policy thereof, as follows :—

Creation of Polders.

- 1.—(1.) The proprietors of any land in the colony may apply by petition to the Governor-in-Council to have any area of land comprising their own and any adjacent land declared a polder under this Ordinance. Proprietors of land may petition to have it declared a polder.
- (2.) Such petition shall not be considered unless it appears to the Governor-in-Council to have been signed by the proprietors of not less than one-third of the said area of land.

(3.) Upon receipt of the said petition the Governor-in-Council may order that the said area of land be surveyed and an estimate made of the cost of the works necessary to provide adequate irrigation and drainage for such land.

(4.) The Governor-in-Council may also order that any land adjacent to the said area of land shall be included in such survey, if in his opinion it is necessary for the purpose of preparing the scheme for the construction of the proposed polder.

(5.) The cost of such survey and estimate may be defrayed out of such moneys as may be voted for the purpose by the Combined Court.

Survey of
posed polder.

2.—(1.) When the Governor-in-Council orders that any land shall be surveyed under the last preceding section, and the cost defrayed out of moneys provided by the Combined Court, the Commissioner of Lands and Mines shall cause a plan of such land, drawn to a scale of not less than one inch to twenty Rhymland roods to be prepared, and shall cause to be delineated thereon, the land held by each proprietor of land in the area proposed to be empoldered and the number of acres held by each.

(2.) The said plan shall be transmitted to the Colonial Civil Engineer, who shall then cause a scheme to be prepared for the irrigation and drainage of the said land, with a statement of the estimated cost of the necessary works, and shall cause to be delineated on the said plan the dams, fresh water supply trenches, main draining trenches, outfalls, kokers, sluices, and locks which it is proposed to make or maintain, and where it is expedient to change the position of the public road, shall delineate on the plan the best position and line for the new public roads and bridges, and the Colonial Civil Engineer shall transmit the said estimate of cost and plans together with a full report thereon, to the Government Secretary.

Governor-in-Council to consider scheme.

3.—The Governor-in-Council shall consider the said scheme together with the estimate and plan and the report thereon, and may in his discretion either refuse the petition or may direct that it shall be proceeded with.

made public,

4.—(1.) If the Governor-in-Council direct that the petition shall be proceeded with a copy of the report, together with the estimate of the cost of the necessary works, and of the plan of the land, with the proper delineations thereon, shall be lodged at the office of the Public Works Department in Georgetown, and another copy shall be lodged at the Post Office nearest to the land.

(2.) Notice that the documents and plan have been lodged and are open for inspection shall be given by public advertisement in the Gazette and at least one other newspaper published in the colony.

(3.) The documents and plan shall remain open for the inspection of every person desiring to see the same on every day, not being a Sunday or public holiday, during office hours, for one month after the date of the first publication of the notice.

(4.) Any person who considers that his property would be injured by the carrying out of the scheme shall, within such period of one month, lodge with the Public Works Department his objections in writing, and shall state to what amount he considers he would suffer loss if the scheme were carried out, and shall furnish full particulars of such estimated loss.

(5.) After the expiration of such period of one month, the Public Works Department shall forward any objections made to the scheme, with a full report thereon, to the Government Secretary.

5.—(1.) The Governor-in-Council after further considering the scheme referred to in the last preceding section, with all the objections thereto, and after hearing, if he considers it necessary to do so, either before the Council itself or any Committee thereof, any of the persons interested, may make an order declaring the said area of land or any part thereof to be a polder under this Ordinance, and may direct any works to be carried out for the irrigation and drainage of such polder, and may appoint some person to summon a meeting of the proprietors of the land in such polder for the purpose of electing a polder authority as hereinafter provided.

Power to declare land a polder.

6.—No person shall be entitled to claim compensation for any alleged loss or injury in consequence of the carrying out of any works directed by the Governor-in-Council to be carried out under this Ordinance: Provided that if any building is, or any growing crops are, damaged by reason of any such works being carried out, any person entitled to such building or growing crops may apply to the Stipendiary Magistrate of the District within which the land is situated to have the amount of his claim for the damage ascertained and certified, and the Stipendiary Magistrate shall inquire what is the amount of damage occasioned or estimated to be occasioned by such works, and shall have the same power to inquire into the claim as if the claim were a complaint of petty debt and the polder authority were the defendant, and shall, after investigation, certify, under his hand, what is the estimated amount of damage which the person so entitled may have suffered or will suffer by the carrying out of the works, and the amount certified shall be deemed part of the cost of the construction of the works and shall be paid in the same manner.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

THIS 6TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1910.

D'ABREU, Appellant.

MEDAS (Sergeant of Police), Respondent.

This is an appeal from a conviction for selling to the prejudice of the purchaser an article of food to wit margarine not of the substance, nature and quality demanded.

The reasons for appeal are that the decision is erroneous in law, the evidence not shewing; (a) what sort of fat margarine should contain; (b) that the article purchased was not of the nature, substance and quality demanded; (c) how much water, fat, salt, and curd, pure and unadulterated margarine should contain; (d) the statute not specifying any specific kind of fat, and (e) the evidence not proving that the sample analysed came from the appellant's shop.

Sergeant Medas states he sealed the sample to be analysed which was bought from the shop with police seal 33 F 13 P, and gave it to Boxill to take to the analyst, Boxill says he took what was given him to the analyst, and the analyst's certificate states he received a sample from Boxill sealed with the police seal 33 F. 13 P. The last reason of appeal is therefore unsustainable.

The purchaser demanded "margarine," prima facie, i.e., such margarine as is allowed by law to be sold under that name. Sect. 6 (c) Ordinance 9 of 1892, says water and salt may be added to margarine so long as the proportion of fat is not reduced below 75%, in other words not more than 25% of water and salt can be added. The analyst's certificate shows 32.56% of water and salt were added to the article sold. This being so, the article sold cannot be held to have been of the nature, substance and quality demanded.

Also in view of the excess of added water and salt beyond the percentage allowed by law, the article must be held to have been adulterated even if the rest of the constituents are taken to have been margarine fat. Hence the other reasons for appeal are unavailing.

The appeal is dismissed with costs.

HENRY A. BOVELL, C.J.

CHIN-A-SAMMY, Appellant.

versus

DE CAIROS, Respondent.

This is an appeal from a conviction on a charge of the larceny of two shirts by the appellant being a servant of the respondent.

The grounds of appeal are that the evidence is insufficient to prove; (a) that any shirts were stolen or (b) that they were stolen by the appellant.

The evidence for the prosecution which the Magistrate states he believed is to the effect that the appellant was sent from the respondent's shop on an errand and an opened parcel of shirts was seen on the floor behind the counter near the spot where the appellant had been standing before he left the shop; that after the appellant's return he was seen making up a parcel and being asked what it contained said, it contained brown paper; that the parcel being opened in his presence was found to contain two shirts of the same kind and material as were in the parcel previously seen on the floor; that that parcel originally contained 18 shirts and after the two were found as already mentioned only 16 were therein, and the clerk in whose charge that parcel was previously kept states he never took any shirts therefrom. This evidence was, I think sufficient to justify the Magistrate in finding the charge was made out.

The appeal is dismissed and the costs incurred by the appellant must be borne by him, no costs being awarded to the respondent who did not appear.

17th January, 1911.

THE following Bill, which it is proposed to introduce into the Court of Policy, is hereby published for general information.

By Command,

CHARLES T. COX,
Government Secretary.

THE QUARANTINE (CONVENTION) AMENDMENT BILL, 1911.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM.

The object of this Bill is to give effect to the recommendations of the Central Quarantine Authority made at a meeting held at Barbados in September last, so as to bring our quarantine law into conformity with that of the other Colonies which are parties to the Quarantine Convention.

A BILL ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE "QUARANTINE ORDINANCES."

WHEREAS at a meeting of the Central Quarantine Authority for the West Indies held at Barbados in September, 1910, certain alterations and modifications of the Quarantine Regulations were recommended to the consideration of the several Governments parties to the said Convention: And whereas the Governments of the Colonies adhering or acceding to the said Convention have consented to the said alterations and modifications: And whereas it is necessary to give effect to the said alterations and modifications:

Be it therefore enacted by the Governor of British Guiana, with the advice and consent of the Court of Policy thereof, as follows:—

ments of the Quarantine Regulations.

1. The Quarantine Regulations contained in the Schedule to the Quarantine (Convention) Amendment Ordinance, 1910, are hereby amended as follows :—

- (1.) The following words shall be added at the end of Article 11 :—

“ And may take such measures as he may think necessary for the disinfection of clothing and for the destruction of rats or other vermin on board of such ship.”

“ Where a ship desires to go alongside of a jetty, wharf or quay and the Health Officer has reason to believe that such ship harbours rats or other vermin, he may, even in the absence of the conditions required to be certified to as aforesaid, take such measures as may be deemed expedient for the disinfection of clothing and articles likely to harbour fleas or other vermin and for the destruction of rats or other vermin on board of such ship.”

- (2.) Article thirteen shall be construed and have effect as if the word “ guineas ” were inserted therein in paragraph (b) thereof instead of the word “ pounds.”

- (3.) Article seventeen is hereby repealed and the following article shall be deemed to be inserted in the said Regulations in lieu thereof :—

“ 17. When any port or place within the colony is an infected place, measures shall be taken to prevent the embarkation at such port or any port within the colony of any person showing symptoms of infectious or contagious disease. To this end, every person taking passage on a ship leaving such port, and every person from such infected place taking passage on board of a ship leaving any port in the colony, shall be examined by the Health Officer immediately before departure of the vessel. Such examination shall, as far as practicable, be made by day and on shore. Measures shall be taken to prevent the exportation of merchandise or of articles or clothing belonging to any passenger which the Health Officer may consider infected, unless such merchandise or articles or clothing shall, in the first instance, have been disinfected on shore under his supervision. Measures shall also be taken to prevent rats in the case of plague, and mosquitoes in the case of yellow fever, from gaining access to ships. When access of mosquitoes or rats to the ship cannot be prevented, measures shall be taken immediately before departure of the vessel to secure destruction of the mosquitoes or rats on board. In the case of cholera, care shall be exercised that drinking water taken on board is wholesome. The Health Officer shall give to the master of the ship a certificate stating in detail the measures taken."

- (4.) Article 18 is hereby repealed and the following article shall be deemed to be inserted in the said Regulations in lieu thereof :—

" 18. When, in the case of a healthy ship from any port at which the measures specified in Article 17 are required to be taken, the Health Officer at the port of arrival is satisfied that the measures specified in that Article have been efficiently carried out, such ship shall be exempted from the measures specified in Article 7. Provided always that if the period specified in that Article, and dating from departure of the ship from such port, shall not have been completed, the passengers and crew may be subjected to surveillance of such duration as is necessary to complete the period."

- (5.) The following article shall be inserted in the said Regulations as number 19 thereof :—

" 19. When a case of non-imported plague has occurred in any port or place within the colony, measures shall be taken at such port, or at any port within the colony where the Health Officer thinks such measure should be applied, for a period of ten days from the isolation, death or recovery of such case to prevent the exportation of merchandise or of articles or clothing belonging to any passenger which the Health Officer may consider infected, unless such merchandise or articles or clothing shall, in the first instance, have been disinfected on shore under his supervision. Measures shall also be taken to prevent rats from gaining access to ships. When access of rats to the ship cannot be prevented, measures shall be taken immediately before the departure of the ship to secure destruction of the rats on board. The Health Officer shall give to the master of the ship a certificate stating in detail the measures taken."

- (6.) Article 19 shall be re-numbered 20.

2. This Ordinance may be cited as the Quarantine (Convention) Amendment Ordinance, 1911, and shall be construed as one with the Quarantine (Convention) Ordinance, 1908, and the Quarantine (Convention) Amendment Ordinance, 1910.

Government Notices.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Georgetown, Demerara,

15. 17th January, 1911.
REFERRING to Government Notices No. 144 of the 2nd March, 1897, and No. 21 of the 28th June, 1906, His Excellency the Governor directs the publication, for general information, of the following Circular Despatch from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, enclosing a copy of an Order-in-Council of the 13th of October, 1910, prescribing new regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea, and rules relating to signals of distress:—
CIRCULAR.

Downing Street,
3rd December, 1910.

Sir,—With reference to Mr. Chamberlain's Circular of the 20th of January, 1897, and the Earl of Elgin's Circular of the 22nd of May, 1906, I have the honour to transmit to you, for such publication or other action as to you may appear desirable, a copy of an Order in Council of the 13th of October, 1910, prescribing new regulations for the prevention of collisions at sea, and rules relating to signals of distress.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble Servant,

L. HARCOURT.

The Officer administering the Government of British Guiana.

AT THE COURT AT ST. JAMES'S,
THE 13TH DAY OF OCTOBER, 1910.

Present,

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Whereas by Section 418 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, His Majesty is empowered from time to time on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade by Order in Council to make regulations for preventing collisions at sea, in the said Act referred to as Collision Regulations:

And whereas by Section 424 of the said Act it is provided that whenever it is made to appear to His Majesty in Council that the Government of any foreign country is willing that the said regulations or any of them should apply to the ships of that country when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction, His Majesty may, by Order in Council, direct that those regulations shall, subject to any limitation of time, conditions and qualifications contained in the Order, apply to the ships of the said foreign country, whether within British jurisdiction or not, and that such ships shall for the purpose of such regulations be treated as if they were British ships:

And whereas by Section 434 of the said Act His Majesty is empowered from time to time by Order in Council to make rules as to signals of distress:

And whereas by Section 734 of the said Act it is provided that where it has been made to appear to His Majesty that the Government of any foreign country is desirous that any of the provisions of that Act which do not apply to the ships of that country, should so apply, and there are no special provisions in the Act for that application, His Majesty in Council may order that such of those provisions as are in the Order specified shall (subject to the limitations, if any, contained therein) apply to the ships of that country, and to the owners, masters, seamen, and apprentices of those ships, when not locally within the jurisdiction of the government of that country, in the same manner in all respects as if those ships were British ships:

And whereas by Section 738 of the said Act it is provided that where His Majesty has power under that Act or any Act amending the same, to make an Order in Council His Majesty may from time to time make that Order in Council and by Order in Council revoke, alter or add to any Order so made:

And whereas by the said last-mentioned Section it is further provided that subject to any special provisions of that Act upon the publication of any such Order the Order shall as from the date of its publication or any later date mentioned in the Order take effect as if it were enacted by Parliament:

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the 27th day of November, 1896, regulations for preventing collisions at sea and as to distress signals were made as regards British ships and boats, and by a subsequent Order dated the 7th day of July, 1897, those regulations were extended, subject to the limitations stated in the Order, to the ships of the several countries specified in Schedule III. to the last mentioned Order:

And whereas by Orders in Council dated respectively the 18th day of August, 1892, the 7th day of July, 1897, and the 4th day of April, 1906, other regulations for the prevention of collisions were made as regards British ships:

And whereas it is expedient to consolidate the regulations which have been made as regards British ships:

And whereas it has been made to appear to His Majesty that the Governments of the several countries mentioned in Schedule II. hereto annexed are willing that the regulations and rules contained in Schedule I. should, subject to the qualifications mentioned in the aforesaid Schedule I. and to the proviso in the case of Chinese ships that the application of the regulations and rules shall be limited to ships of foreign type, apply to the ships of those countries when beyond the limits of British jurisdiction:

And whereas the provisions of Section one of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, have been complied with:

Now therefore His Majesty, by virtue of the powers conferred on Him by the aforesaid Act, and on the joint recommendation of the Admiralty and the Board of Trade, and by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased to direct that the collision regulations and the rules as to signals of distress contained in Schedule I. to this Order shall apply to all British ships:

And His Majesty is also pleased to direct that the said regulations and rules shall, subject to the aforesaid qualifications and to the proviso in the case of Chinese ships that the regulations and rules will be applicable only to ships of foreign type, apply to the ships of the countries named in Schedule II. to this Order whether they are within British jurisdiction or not, and that such ships shall for the purpose of such regulations and rules be treated as if they were British ships:

And His Majesty is further pleased to direct that this Order shall come into operation on and after the 13th day of October, 1910, and that as and from the coming into operation of this Order the Orders in Council specified in Schedule III. to this Order shall be revoked and the same shall be revoked accordingly.

Almeric Fitz Roy.

SCHEDULE I.

Preliminary.

These Rules shall be followed by all vessels upon the high seas and in all waters connected therewith, navigable by sea-going vessels.

In the following Rules every steam vessel which is under sail and not under steam is to be considered a sailing vessel, and every vessel under steam, whether under sail or not, is to be considered a steam vessel.

The word "steam vessel" shall include any vessel propelled by machinery.

A vessel is "under way," within the meaning of these Rules, when she is not at anchor, or made fast to the shore or aground.

Rules concerning Lights, &c.

The word "visible" in these Rules, when applied to lights, shall mean visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere.

Article 1. The Rules concerning lights shall be complied with in all weathers from sunset to sunrise, and during such time no other lights which may be mistaken for the prescribed lights shall be exhibited.

Article 2. A steam vessel when under way shall carry—

- (a.) On or in front of the foremast, or if a vessel without a foremast, then in the fore part of the vessel, at a height about the hull of not less than 20 feet, and if the breadth of the vessel exceeds 20 feet, then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, so, however, that the light need not be carried at a greater height above the hull than 40 feet, a bright white light, so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of the vessel, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 5 miles.

(b.) On the starboard side a green light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on the starboard side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(c.) On the port side a red light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 10 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on the port side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(d.) The said green and red side-lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

(e.) A steam vessel when under way may carry an additional white light similar in construction to the light mentioned in subdivision (a). These two lights shall be so placed in line with the keel that one shall be at least 15 feet higher than the other, and in such a position with reference to each other that the lower light shall be forward of the upper one. The vertical distance between these lights shall be less than the horizontal distance.

Article 3. A steam vessel when towing another vessel shall, in addition to her side-lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and when towing more than one vessel shall carry an additional bright white light 6 feet above or below such lights, if the length of the tow, measuring from the stern of the towing vessel to the stern of the last vessel towed, exceeds 600 feet. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character, and shall be carried in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), except the additional light, which may be carried at a height of not less than 14 feet above the hull.

Such steam vessel may carry a small white light abaft the funnel or aftermast for the vessel towed to steer by, but such light shall not be visible forward of the beam.

Article 4.—(a.) A vessel which from any accident is not under command shall carry at the same height as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), where they can best be seen, and, if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light, two red lights, in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, and of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 2 miles; and shall by day carry in a vertical line one over the other not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, two black balls or shapes each 2 feet in diameter.

(b.) A vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), and if a steam vessel, in lieu of that light, three lights in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart. The highest and lowest of these lights shall be red, and the middle light shall be white, and they shall be of such a character as to be visible all round the horizon, at a distance of at least 2 miles. By day she shall carry in a vertical line one over the other, not less than 6 feet apart, where they can best be seen, three shapes not less than 2 feet in diameter, of which the highest and lowest shall be globular in shape and red in colour, and the middle one diamond in shape and white.

(c.) The vessels referred to in this Article when not making way through the water, shall not carry the side-lights, but when making way shall carry them.

(d.) The lights and shapes required to be shown by this Article are to be taken by other vessels as signals that the vessel showing them is not under command and cannot therefore get out of the way.

These signals are not signals of vessels in distress and requiring assistance. Such signals are contained in Article 31.

Article 5. A sailing vessel under way, and any vessel being towed, shall carry the same lights as are prescribed by Article 2 for a steam vessel under way, with the exception of the white lights mentioned therein, which they shall never carry.

Article 6. Whenever, as in the case of small vessels under way during bad weather, the green and red side-lights cannot be fixed, these lights shall be kept at hand lighted and ready for use; and shall, on the approach of or to other vessels, be exhibited on their respective sides in sufficient time to prevent collision, in such manner as to make them most visible, and so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side, nor, if practicable, more than 2 points abaft the beam on their respective side.

To make the use of these portable lights more certain and easy, the lanterns containing them shall each be painted outside with the colour of the light they respectively contain, and shall be provided with proper screens.

Article 7. Steam vessels of less than 40, and vessels under oars or sails of less than 20 tons gross tonnage, respectively, and rowing boats, when under way, shall not be obliged to carry the lights mentioned in Article 2 (a) (b) and (c), but if they do not carry them they shall be provided with the following lights:—

1. Steam vessels of less than 40 tons shall carry:

(a.) In the fore part of the vessel, or on or in front of the funnel, where it can best be seen, and at a height above the gunwale of not less than 9 feet, a bright white light constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (a), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(b.) Green and red side-lights constructed and fixed as prescribed in Article 2 (b) and (c), and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile, or a combined lantern showing a green light and a red light from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on their respective sides. Such lantern shall be carried not less than 3 feet below the white light.

2. Small steamboats, such as are carried by sea-going vessels, may carry the white light at a less height than 9 feet above the gunwale, but it shall be carried above the combined lantern, mentioned in sub-division 1 (b).

3. Vessels under oars or sails, of less than 20 tons, shall have ready at hand a lantern with a green glass on one side and a red glass on the other, which, on the approach of or to other vessels, shall be exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision, so that the green light shall not be seen on the port side nor the red light on the starboard side.

4. Rowing boats, whether under oars or sail, shall have ready at hand a lantern showing a white light, which shall be temporarily exhibited in sufficient time to prevent collision.

The vessels referred to in this Article shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by Article 4 (a), and Article 11, last paragraph.

Article 8. Pilot-vessels, when engaged on their station on pilotage duty, shall not show the lights required for other vessels, but shall carry a white light at the masthead, visible all round the horizon, and shall also exhibit a flare-up light or flare-up lights at short intervals, which shall never exceed fifteen minutes.

On the near approach of or to other vessels they shall have their side-lights lighted, ready for use, and shall flash or show them at short intervals, to indicate the direction in which they are heading, but the green light shall not be shown on the port side, nor the red light on the starboard side.

A pilot-vessel of such a class as to be obliged to go alongside of a vessel to put a pilot on board, may show the white light instead of carrying it at the masthead, and may, instead of the Coloured lights above mentioned, have at hand ready for use a lantern with a green glass on the one side and a red glass on the other, to be used as prescribed above.

A steam pilot-vessel exclusively employed for the service of pilots licensed or certified by any pilotage authority or the Committee of any pilotage district, when engaged on her station on pilotage duty and not at anchor, shall, in addition to the lights required for all pilot boats, carry at a distance of eight feet below her white masthead light a red light visible all round the horizon and of such a character as to be visible on a dark night with a clear atmosphere at a distance of at least two miles, and also the coloured side-lights required to be carried by vessels when under way.

When engaged on her station on pilotage duty and at anchor she shall carry, in addition to the lights required for all pilot boats, the red light above mentioned, but not the coloured side-lights.

Pilot-vessels, when not engaged on their station on pilotage duty, shall carry lights similar to those of other vessels of their tonnage.

Article 9.*† Fishing-vessels and fishing-boats, when under way and when not required by this Article to carry or show the lights hereinafter specified shall carry or show the lights prescribed for vessels of their tonnage under way.

(a.) Open boats, by which it is to be understood boats not protected from the entry of sea water by means of a continuous deck, when engaged in any fishing at night with outlying tackle extending not more than 150 feet horizontally from the

* This article does not apply to Chinese or Siamese vessels.

† The expression "Mediterranean Sea" contained in sub-sections (b) and (c) of this Article includes the Black Sea and the other adjacent inland seas in communication with it.

boat into the seaway, shall carry one all-round white light.

Open boats, when fishing at night, with outlying tackle extending more than 150 feet horizontally from the boat into the seaway, shall carry one all-round white light, and in addition, on approaching or being approached by other vessels, shall show a second white light at least 3 feet below the first light and at a horizontal distance of at least 5 feet away from it in the direction in which the outlying tackle is attached.

(b.)* Vessels and boats, except open boats as defined in sub-division (a), when fishing with drift-nets, shall, so long as the nets are wholly or partly in the water, carry two white lights where they can best be seen. Such lights shall be placed so that the vertical distance between them shall be not less than 6 feet and not more than 15 feet, and so that the horizontal distance between them, measured in a line with the keel, shall be not less than 5 feet and not more than 10 feet. The lower of these two lights shall be in the direction of the nets, and both of them shall be of such a character as to show all round the horizon, and to be visible at a distance of not less than 3 miles.

Within the Mediterranean Sea and in the seas bordering the coasts of Japan and Korea† sailing fishing vessels of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to carry the lower of these two lights; should they, however, not carry it, they shall show in the same position (in the direction of the net or gear) a white light, visible at a distance of not less than one sea mile, on the approach of or to other vessels.

(c.) Vessels and boats, except open boats as defined in sub-division (a), when line-fishing with their lines out and attached to or hauling their lines, and when not at anchor or stationary within the meaning of sub-division (h), shall carry the same lights as vessels fishing with drift-nets. When shooting lines, or fishing with towing lines, they shall carry the lights prescribed for a steam or sailing vessel under way respectively.

Within the Mediterranean Sea and in the seas bordering the coasts of Japan and Korea† sailing fishing vessels of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to carry the lower of these two lights; should they, however, not carry it, they shall show in the same position (in the direction of the lines) a white light, visible at a distance of not less than one sea mile on the approach of or to other vessels.

(d.) Vessels, when engaged in trawling, by which is meant the dragging of an apparatus along the bottom of the sea—

1. If steam vessels, shall carry in the same position as the white light mentioned in Article 2 (a), a tricoloured lantern so constructed and fixed as to show a white light from right ahead to two points on each bow, and a green light and a red light over an arc of the horizon from two points on each bow to two points abaft the beam on the starboard and port sides respectively; and not less than 6 nor more than 12 feet below the tricoloured lantern a white light in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light all round the horizon.

2. If sailing vessels, shall carry a white light in a lantern, so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light all round the horizon, and shall also on the approach of or to other vessels, show where it can best be seen a white flare-up light or torch in sufficient time to prevent collision.

All lights mentioned in sub-division (d) 1 and 2 shall be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles.

(e.) Oyster dredgers and other vessels fishing with dredge-nets shall carry and show the same lights as trawlers.

(f.) Fishing-vessels and fishing-boats may at any time use a flare-up light in addition to the lights which they are by this Article required to carry and show, and they may also use working lights.

(g.) Every fishing vessel and every fishing boat under 150 feet in length, when at anchor, shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

Every fishing-vessel of 150 feet in length or upwards, when at anchor, shall exhibit a white light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile, and shall exhibit a second light as provided for vessels of such length by Article 11.

Should any such vessel, whether under 150 feet in length, or of 150 feet in length or upwards, be attached to a net or other fishing gear, she shall on the approach of other vessels show an additional white light at least 3 feet below the anchor light, and at a horizontal distance of at least 5 feet away from it in the direction of the net or gear.

(h.) If a vessel or boat when fishing becomes stationary in consequence of her gear getting fast to a rock or other obstruction, she shall in daytime haul down the day-signal required by sub-division (k); at night show the light or lights prescribed for a vessel at anchor; and during fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms make the signal prescribed for a vessel at anchor. (See sub-division (d), and the last paragraph of Article 15.)

(i.) In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, drift-net vessels attached to their nets, and vessels when trawling, dredging, or fishing with any kind of dragnet, and vessels line fishing with their lines out, shall, if of 20 tons gross tonnage or upwards, respectively, at intervals of not more than one minute make a blast; if steam vessels, with the whistle or siren, and if sailing vessels, with the fog-horn; each blast to be followed by ringing the bell. Fishing vessels and boats of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the abovementioned signals; but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound signal at intervals of not more than one minute.

(k.) All vessels or boats fishing with nets or lines or trawls, when under way, shall in daytime indicate their occupation to an approaching vessel by displaying a basket or other efficient signal where it can best be seen. If vessels or boats at anchor have their gear out, they shall, on the approach of other vessels, show the same signal on the side on which the vessels can pass.

The vessels required by this Article to carry or show the lights hereinbefore specified shall not be obliged to carry the lights prescribed by Article 4 (a), and the last paragraph of Article 11.

Article 10. A vessel which is being overtaken by another shall show from her stern to such last-mentioned vessel a white light or a flare-up light.

The white light required to be shown by this Article may be fixed and carried in a lantern, but in such case the lantern shall be so constructed, fitted, and screened that it shall throw an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 12 points of the compass, viz., for 6 points from right aft on each side of the vessel, so as to be visible at a distance of at least 1 mile. Such light shall be carried as nearly as practicable on the same level as the side-lights.

Article 11. A vessel under 150 feet in length, when at anchor, shall carry forward, where it can best be seen, but at a height not exceeding 20 feet above the hull, a white light in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear, uniform, and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least 1 mile.

A vessel of 150 feet or upwards in length, when at anchor, shall carry in the forward part of the vessel, at a height of not less than 20, and not exceeding 40, feet above the hull, one such light, and at or near the stern of the vessel, and at such a height that it shall be not less than 15 feet lower than the forward light, another such light.

The length of a vessel shall be deemed to be the length appearing in her certificate of registry.

A vessel aground in or near a fairway shall carry the above light or lights and the two red lights prescribed by Article 4 (a).

Article 12. Every vessel may, if necessary in order to attract attention, in addition to the lights which she is by these Rules required to carry, show a flare-up light or use any detonating signal that cannot be mistaken for a distress signal.

Article 13. Nothing in these Rules shall interfere with the operation of any special rules made by the Government of any nation with respect to additional station and signal lights for two or more ships of war or for vessels sailing under convoy, or with the exhibition of recognition signals adopted by ship-owners, which have been authorized by their respective Governments and duly registered and published.

Article 14. A steam vessel proceeding under sail only, but having her funnel up, shall carry in daytime, forward, where it can best be seen, one black ball or shape 2 feet in diameter.

Sound-Signals for Fog, &c.

Article 15. All signals prescribed by this Article for vessels under way shall be given:

1. By "steam vessels" on the whistle or siren.
2. By "sailing vessels and vessels towed" on the fog-horn.

* Dutch vessels and boats when engaged in the "kol" or hand-line, fishing will carry the lights prescribed for vessels fishing with drift nets.

† Also, as regards Russian vessels, in the seas (excluding the Baltic) bordering the coasts of Russia.

The words "prolonged blast" used in this Article, shall mean a blast of from 4 to 6 seconds' duration.

A steam vessel shall be provided with an efficient whistle or siren, sounded by steam or some substitute for steam, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstruction, and with an efficient fog-horn, to be sounded by mechanical means, and also with an efficient bell.* A sailing vessel of 20 tons gross tonnage or upwards shall be provided with a similar fog-horn and bell.

In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, whether by day or night, the signals described in this Article shall be used as follows, viz:—

- (a.) A steam vessel having way upon her, shall sound, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, a prolonged blast.
- (b.) A steam vessel under way, but stopped and having no way upon her, shall sound, at intervals of not more than 2 minutes, 2 prolonged blasts, with an interval of about 1 second between them.
- (c.) A sailing vessel under way shall sound, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, when on the starboard tack one blast, when on the port tack two blasts in succession, and when with the wind abaft the beam three blasts in succession.
- (d.) A vessel, when at anchor, shall, at intervals of not more than 1 minute, ring the bell rapidly for about 5 seconds.
- (e.) A vessel when towing, a vessel employed in laying or in picking up a telegraph cable, and a vessel under way, which is unable to get out of the way of an approaching vessel through being not under command, or unable to manoeuvre as required by these Rules shall, instead of the signals prescribed in sub-divisions (a) and (c) of this Article, at intervals of not more than two minutes, sound three blasts in succession, viz.: one prolonged blast followed by two short blasts. A vessel towed may give this signal and she shall not give any other.

Sailing vessels and boats of less than 20 tons gross tonnage shall not be obliged to give the above-mentioned signals, but if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound-signal at intervals of not more than 1 minute.†

Speed of Ships to be Moderate in Fog, &c.

Article 16. Every vessel shall, in a fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms, go at a moderate speed, having careful regard to the existing circumstances and conditions.

A steam vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog-signal of a vessel the position of which is not ascertained, shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines, and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

Steering and Sailing Rules.

Preliminary—Risk of Collision.

Risk of collision can, when circumstances permit, be ascertained by carefully watching the compass bearing of an approaching vessel. If the bearing does not appreciably change, such risk should be deemed to exist.

Article 17. When two sailing vessels are approaching one another, so as to involve risk of collision, one of them shall keep out of the way of the other, as follows, viz:—

- (a.) A vessel which is running free shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled.
- (b.) A vessel which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.
- (c.) When both are running free, with the wind on different sides, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.
- (d.) When both are running free, with the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is to leeward.
- (e.) A vessel which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

Article 18. When two steam vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision,

This Article only applies to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such a manner as to involve risk of collision, and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other. The only cases to which it does apply are when each of the two vessels is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; in other words, to cases in which, by day, each vessel sees the masts of the other in a line, or nearly in a line, with her own; and, by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the side-lights of the other.

It does not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course; or by night, to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead, or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

Article 19. When two steam vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 20. When a steam vessel and a sailing vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Article 21. Where by any of these Rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep her course and speed.

Note.—When, in consequence of thick weather or other causes, such vessel finds herself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way vessel alone, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision. (See Articles 27 and 29.)

Article 22. Every vessel which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

Article 23. Every steam vessel which is directed by these Rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, on approaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

Article 24. Notwithstanding anything contained in these Rules, every vessel, overtaking any other, shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than two points abaft her beam, i.e., in such a position, with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking, that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's side-lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel, and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these Rules, or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forward or abaft this direction from the other vessel, she should, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

Article 25. In narrow channels every steam vessel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fair-way or mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Article 26. Sailing vessels under way shall keep out of the way of sailing vessels or boats fishing with nets, or lines, or trawls. This Rule shall not give to any vessel or boat engaged in fishing the right of obstructing a fairway used by vessels other than fishing-vessels or boats.

Article 27. In obeying and construing these Rules, due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above Rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

Sound Signals for Vessels in Sight of one Another.

Article 28. The words "short blast" used in this Article shall mean a blast of about one second's duration.

When vessels are in sight of one another, a steam vessel under way, in taking any course authorized or required by these Rules, shall indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle or siren, viz:—

One short blast to mean, "I am directing my course to starboard."

Two short blasts to mean, "I am directing my course to port."

Three short blasts to mean, "My engines are going full speed astern."

No Vessel under any circumstances to neglect proper Precautions.

Article 29. Nothing in these Rules shall exonerate any vessel, or the owner, or master, or crew thereof,

* In all cases where the Rules require a bell to be used a drum may be substituted on board Turkish vessels, or a gong where such articles are used on board small sea-going vessels.

† Dutch steam pilot-vessels, when engaged on their station on pilotage duty in fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain-storms are required to make at intervals of 2 minutes at most one long blast with the siren, followed after 1 second by a long blast with the steam whistle and again after 1 second by a long blast on the siren. When not engaged on their station on pilotage duty, they make the same signals as other steamships.

each shall alter her course to starboard, so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper lookout, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

Reservation of Rules for Harbours and Inland Navigation.

Article 30. Nothing in the Rules shall interfere with the operation of a special rule, duly made by local authority, relative to the navigation of any harbour, river, or inland waters.

Distress Signals.

Article 31. When a vessel is in distress and requires assistance from other vessels or from the shore, the following shall be the signals to be used or displayed by her, either together, or separately, viz. :—

In the daytime—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. The International Code signal of distress indicated by NC;
3. The distant signal consisting of a square flag, having either above or below it a ball, or anything resembling a ball;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

At night—

1. A gun or other explosive signal fired at intervals of about a minute;
2. Flares on the vessel (astrom a burning tar-barrel, oil barrel, &c.);
3. Rockets or shells, throwing stars of any colour or description, fired one at a time, at short intervals;
4. A continuous sounding with any fog-signal apparatus.

DOOLAM.

This is an opposition to transport of a piece of land forming part of Plantation Malgre Tout, situate on the west bank of the river Demerara, the said piece of land being laid down and defined and marked "A" on a diagram of a lot of land situate on the sea front of Plantation Versailles, West Bank, Demerara River, by James Seymour, Sworn Land Surveyor, dated 31st December, 1907, and deposited in the Registrar's Office of British Guiana on the 15th January, 1908, with the buildings and erections thereon, subject to a first mortgage passed on the 12th December, 1908, in favour of the British Guiana Building Society.

Evidence was led to the effect that the defendant purchased from the proprietors of Plantation Versailles a certain piece of land situate at Malgre Tout, and that he borrowed the money for the purchase of the same from Anthony Coonjal, now deceased, and to whom he sold a piece of the said land measuring 4 rods and a half in length by 3 rods and 11 feet on the east and on the west 2 rods, 4 feet. That the said defendant sued the proprietors of Pln. Versailles for transport of the whole of the land purchased by him, the receipt for the purchase money being in his name and obtained judgment and in accordance with such judgment the land was transported to Doolam. The piece of land so sold to Anthony Coonjal, now claimed by the plaintiff as executrix under the last will of the said Anthony Coonjal, was occupied by him and he erected buildings thereon and that piece of land and the buildings are at present occupied by his wife, the present plaintiff, and his heirs. That previous to Coonjal's death Doolam obtained a loan from the Building Society with Coonjal's consent and mortgaged the property including the piece sold to Coonjal and the buildings thereon erected, at the same time giving Coonjal an agreement declaring the said Coonjal to be the bona fide proprietor of the piece of land occupied by him together with the buildings thereon. The defendant now seeks to transport the land to his son Benjamin Sewnath without receiving that portion sold to Coonjal, with the buildings thereon, but not transported to him.

At the hearing, the defendant was in default and the case was heard ex parte.

I believe that the sale by Doolam to Coonjal took place and that he, Coonjal, erected buildings thereon and occupied the land and that Doolam, on mortgaging the whole property, the same being still in his name, signed the agreement of the 17th day of June, 1908, referred to in the evidence.

I therefore order that the defendant be restrained from passing transport of the said lands referred to with the buildings and erections thereon, without reserving the plaintiff's right to the western portion of the said land measuring 4 rods and a half in length by 3 rods and 11 feet on the east and on the west 2 rods, 4 feet, with the buildings and erections thereon. I declare the opposition good and well-founded and grant costs to plaintiff.

SUPREME COURT OF BRITISH GUIANA.

IN INSOLVENCY NO. 14 OF 1910.

THIS 4TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, 1911.

Re HENRY MAN-SON-HING, Debtor,
Ex parte HING CHEONG AND COMPANY, LIMITED (In Liquidation), by CHARLES KENNETH OSBORNE, Liquidator.

This is an application for approval of a composition accepted by a majority in number and by three-fourths in value of all the creditors who have proved their debts. The offer made by the debtor is 25% of the proved debts. According to the Report of the Official Receiver, after deducting the expenses in accordance with the terms of the proposal, the creditors will receive a little over 14% which may be reduced by a further 2% in the event of certain other expenses being paid thereout.

Under section 16 (9) of the Insolvency Ordinance, 1900, it is provided that if any facts are proved on proof of which the Court would be required to refuse, suspend or attach conditions to a discharge, the Court shall refuse to approve the proposal unless it provides reasonable security for payment of not less than thirty-five cents in the dollar on all unsecured debts provable against the debtor's estate. As stated by Lord Esher, M.R. (re Burr, ex parte, Board of Trade (1892) 2 Q. B., 467) "the providing of the security (in the present case, 35 cents in the dollar) is the condition upon which the Court is allowed to consider whether it will or will not approve the scheme. If the condition is fulfilled, the Court may or may not, having regard to all the other circumstances of the case, approve the scheme." It is therefore unnecessary in the present case to deal with the other circumstances as shown by the Report of the Official Receiver and the evidence taken at the public examination of the debtor, inasmuch as the condition attached to section 16 (9) of the Ordinance has not been complied with.

The Court refuses to sanction the composition and orders the costs (if any) of the Official Receiver to be paid out of the deposit.

M. J. BERKELEY, J.

THE following minute by His Excellency the Governor on the subject of the organization of the Clerical Branches of the Public Service of this Colony, with the Report of the Committee therein referred to, is hereby published for general information.

By Command,
CHARLES T. COX,
Government Secretary.

Minute by the Governor.

GOVERNMENT SECRETARY,

Experience has shown that the system introduced by Sir J. A. Swettenham in 1903 under which for purposes of promotion the individual and technical requirements of the several departments of the Civil Service are sunk and the Clerical staffs of each are amalgamated and regarded as forming one homogeneous body, has tended to lower the standard of efficiency of each separate department, and in my opinion the time has now come when the interests of the Service demand some modification of it. One of the main reasons for its introduction was that under the arrangement existing prior to its adoption—an arrangement by which each department had its own separate staff and separate classification—deserving officers failed to obtain the promotion they had merited because they were limited to such promotion only as offered in the departments to which they belonged.

2. This reason is important, but I think that the system goes too far in the opposite direction and that the end in view could have been secured by a judicious grouping of departments whereby their individual efficiency would not have been sacrificed. It is clear that efficiency must be jeopardized when officers who have been trained as supervisors of letter-sorting in the Post Office are transferred for example to the Medical Department and those whose previous experience has been in the examination and auditing of accounts are removed to the Customs Department. Some officers, it is true, possess sufficient natural ability and take enough interest in their work to adapt themselves to their altered circumstances, but the number of such men is limited.

3. In all the circumstances I have decided that effect should be given to the recommendations of the Committee which recently sat to consider the amendment of the existing system of inter-departmental promotion, and that in future certain departments of the Service should be grouped for purposes of promotion in the senior classes while others should stand alone—advancement to and from the fifth and sixth Classes, except in the case of the Customs Department, and where special qualifications are needed, remaining inter-departmental.

4. In other respects the recommendations of the Committee, a copy of whose report is attached, will be generally followed.

F. M. HODGSON,
Governor.

6th February, 1911.

Report of a Committee appointed to consider the system under which promotions are made in the Public Service.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND MINES,
Georgetown, Demerara,
31st August, 1910.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. 7119/10 of the 21st April last appointing

Mr. J. K. D. Hill, Stipendiary Magistrate, Chairman.
„ F. Fowler, Commissioner of Lands and Mines,
„ J. M. Reid, Comptroller of Customs,
„ A. W. Swain, Postmaster General,
„ W. A. Parker, Official Receiver, to be a Committee to consider the question of amending the arrangements under which the Clerical Service of the Colony is dealt with as a homogeneous body, we have the honour to submit the following report and suggestions:—

1. Mr. Hill left the colony on leave of absence on the 25th of June, and Mr. Fowler was appointed Chairman.

2. The Chairman addressed a circular to all Heads of Departments, vide copy attached, requesting them to give the Committee their views on the points mentioned in the circular and the replies received are submitted herewith.

3. There was an almost unanimous opinion expressed in these replies that the present system of inter-departmental promotion was inadvisable, and with this view the Committee agree.

4. After carefully considering the whole question, the Committee are of opinion that the various Departments of the Service should be treated in the following manner, as regards promotion in the senior classes :—

The Government Secretary's Office,
 „ Customs Department,
 „ Immigration Department,
 „ Department of Science and Agriculture, should stand alone, and that the following Departments should be grouped as follows :—

(a.) Department of Lands and Mines.

Public Works Department.

(b.) Treasury.

Audit Office.

Post Office.

(c.) Education.

Local Government Board.

Medical.

Poor Law Commissioners.

Police.

Prisons.

Registrar General.

(d.) Attorney General.

Magistrates.

Registrar.

Official Receiver.

5. The Committee further consider that—

(a.) Promotion in the Fifth and Sixth Classes throughout the Service can be treated inter-departmentally as at present, with the exception of the Customs Department.

(b.) That all appointments should be made subject to a probation of 6 months.

(c.) That all appointments in the senior classes should be decided by seniority and merit and not by seniority alone.

(d.) That each Department should have a staff of Clerical Assistants; clerks not on the permanent establishment of the Service who could be employed and dismissed at will. This would enable the Government to train up officers for the Sixth Class appointments, which could then be filled by persons who had proved their fitness for permanent employment in the Service.

6. Subject to the established and unalterable conditions which govern the Public Service, the Committee are also of opinion that the suggestions in the fourth paragraph of this report should, if adopted, be generally adhered to as far as the grades up to and including the rank of First Class Clerks are concerned, but the Committee deem it expedient that officers of any particular department or group should not be precluded from sending forward reasonable applications for promotion to situations out of the direct line in which they are serving, and they further consider it advisable that the classes in each Department should be re-arranged so as to permit of an uniform rate of promotion in each department or group of departments.

We have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient Servants,

FRANK FOWLER,

Chairman.

J. M. REID.

A. W. SWAIN

W. A. PARKER.

The Honourable

The GOVERNMENT SECRETARY.
